CHARLES BARTLETT,	Treasurer
G. H. BEAN,	Superintendent

The year 1912 was one of activity from almost the first day, when the extreme cold weather began, causing many frozen water pipes and extra pumping and expense at the pumping station. The cold spell lasting well into February added considerable to our expenses. Later in the year 365 feet of service pipe were lowered to prevent further danger of freezing.

As soon as spring opened, work was started on another big well; this was very successful, yielding a good supply of water. For the present the supply is ample for the needs of the town, but it should never be wasted.

As was voted by the town last March, four new hydrants have been installed, three of the old ones have been replaced.

Meters have given general satisfaction and 54 have been installed during the year, it is our intention to continue, as we are able, until every service is metered.

When the new boiler was installed a few years ago, it was connected with the old chimney which was some distance from the boiler and the draft has never been satisfactory. This year a steel smoke stack was erected, this is 87 feet above the floor of the boiler room and is giving entire satisfaction. The machinery at the station is considered to be in the best condition it has been since the town took charge of the Water Works in 1907.

All running expenses, interest on bonds, etc., have been paid and $1500 paid the town on the principal this leaves only $1500 more to pay, this amount we shall pay before the Town closes the books February 15, 1913.

690 feet of 1 1-4 inch pipe on Mt. Washington St., was relaid with 2 inch and the following extensions were made:.

450 feet of 6 in. cast iron pipe on W. Broadway.
253 feet of 2 in. pipe on Rollins St.
297 feet of 2 in. pipe on Manning St.
272 feet of 2 in. pipe on Summit Ave.

DERRY PUBLIC LIBRARY

To the Trustees of the Derry Public Library:

The eighth annual report is herewith presented.

The library has been open for the delivery of books on Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 3 o'clock until 5. On Saturday from 2 o'clock until 6, and every evening from 6 o'clock until 9. The reading room has been open every day from 2 until 5 and from 6 until 9, except Sundays and holidays.

The statistics accompanying this report give in detail the work of the library. No records are kept of the attendance in the reading room, but it is well patronized both afternoon and evening. Many evenings every chair is occupied. The attendance of young men and boys is most marked.

There are other important features of the library work which I cannot report in figures. A large number of persons come to consult our books of reference. Besides the assistance rendered individuals, I have spent time compiling lists for schools and teachers. Also lists of agricultural books, bird books, etc., which have been printed in our local papers and posted in the library. At the request of teachers, books have in many instances been reserved on a side table one week for reference by their pupils. This is a work that could with advantage to both library and school be done much more extensively.

No record has been kept of the books delivered for use in the reading room only, but many books are read in this way without being added to our circulation, which is still increasing, each class making good proportionate gains.

Several valuable sets of books have been added:

Wm. De Witt Hyde's "Vocations."

"Book of Knowledge," a childrens encyclopedia written in a popular style, has been freely circulated being especially used by the young people.

Burton Holmes "Travelogues" which are also an excellent addition.

"The library of Work and Play," 12 vols. on important arts and crafts.

"Young Folks Library," edited by Thomas B. Aldrich which includes selections from the choicest literature of all lands for old and young.

No book has been lost either through circulation or from the shelves.

Since the opening of the library in August 1905, more than 3100 people have registered. Many of the former patrons have removed from town or for other reasons ceased to borrow books. Therefore last May a registration was begun. Since then nearly 1300 people have reregistered. These are partly new patrons. By discontinuing the old list our register shows the exact number of present patrons.

I have attended during the year two library meetings. One the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Library Association, at which I took a slight part, and the other at Haverhill, Mass., where the N. H. librarians were the guests of the Free Public Library Commission of Massachusetts.

I submit the following statistics:

For the Year Ending February 1, 1913.

The report of the librarian which is herewith presented is a clear and comprehensive statement of the work of the library for the last year. In many ways we believe its usefulness has been increased and extended. New plans having this end in view for the coming year are in contemplation. Attention is especially called to the addition of several very valuable sets of books, and though more expensive than the ordinary book of fiction we believe their worth warranted their purchase. It is intended as far as possible to make the library useful to all classes, as all are represented among those who would avail themselves of its benefits.

We wish the people of Derry to know that it is our purpose to have the library up to date in its methods and management. Our librarian is interested in her work and that she may render the most efficient service she seeks to keep in touch with the general work of her calling. She attends library meetings frequently, held in different places deriving much benefit therefrom. Upon two such occasions she has had a place on the program, and the "slight part" which she took in the meeting of the New Hampshire Library Association at Laconia was the reading of a paper on an important feature of library work which was considered of sufficient worth to be published in full in the Bulletin of the New Hampshire Public Libraries.

Mrs. Florence Nichols not wishing to serve longer as assistant librarian we were fortunate in securing as her successor Mrs. Lena C. Howe who is serving with acceptance and efficiency.

While a larger amount of money at our disposal could be profitably used yet in view of present financial conditions we do not feel like asking for an increased appropriation but will use our best judgment in expending whatever sum may be given us trusting however that it will not be less than that of last year.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The School Board of the Town School District respectfully submits to the inhabitants of said District, the following report for the year ending February 15, 1913, together with an estimate of expense for the coming year ending February 15, 1914.

The Supervisory District this year is comprised of the same towns as last year; namely, Londonderry, Windham and the two School Districts in Derry. The School Board would suggest to the inhabitants of said School District the advisability of withdrawing from the Supervisory District, as it is now composed, at the annual School Meeting, and from a Supervisory District comprising the Town School District and School District No. 2. The School Board feels that there is sufficient work for a Superintendent in these two Districts and that the results obtained would be much more satisfactory, and would to our minds far outweigh in importance any increased expenditures for Superintendent's salary that might be necessary.

At the annual meeting of the Supervisory District held in May, Mr. Arthur Reynolds was re-elected Superintendent at a salary of $1400. In the latter part of the summer, Mr. Reynolds handed in his resignation to the Supervisory District, and another meeting was held a few weeks before the opening of the schools in the fall term, at which meeting Charles W. Cutts was elected to fill the vacancy at a salary of $1400 of the meeting relative to the adequate heating of the East Side School, to leave the question to the School Board, to deal with as they thought wisest for the best interest of the district. On careful consideration of this subject and after having experts examine the heating plant the School Board came to the conclusion that it would be the wisest and most economical thing in the end to install a new boiler; consequently a boiler was purchased from Richardson, Boynton Company, and installed by E. R. Belanger for the price of $700. The bids for installing the same were competitive.

The Board has been somewhat handicapped relative to obtaining competent teachers for the schools in the outlying districts, on account of resignations, etc., but we believe at this time that most of the positions are satisfactorily filled.

Quite extensive repairs have been made in the School House in District No. 6, which consisted of putting in a new ceiling, painting, etc. The Board have made minor repairs upon the School Houses in other Districts, but would recommend that the appropriation for the coming year for repairs should be somewhat larger than last, as some of the School Houses are in rather a bad condition. The School House at No. 9 is still closed, as last year and the building is in a very dilapidated condition. We would advise the District to take some action in this matter, and to provide for the sale, or conservation of the property in the School House belonging to the District.

The School House in district No. 3 accomodates very few pupils who live in Derry, and more than one-half of the scholars now attending that school belong in Londonderry. The School Board feels that it would be perhaps economy to close the school house, as the Derry pupils now attending could be accomodated at the East Side School without traveling an unreasonable distance.

We have endeavored to run the schools in the districts in the most economical way possible, but not so as to take away any of the rights or the privileges of the scholars. Those pupils who live a long distance from school houses are provided with suitable transportation, or allowed to attend school in some other town.

The School Board has been very careful not to exceed the appropriations in any respect, and have reduced the indebtedness of the district $2,500.00, the same being the payment of a note against the district to the Merrimack River Savings Bank.

The School Board recommends that the school district at the annual meeting should not vote to authorize the School Board to borrow money in anticipation of taxes. We feel the district ought not to be burdened by the payment of interest, which in the past year has amounted to almost enough to hire a teacher at the rate of $10.00 per week, and also that the school district has no legal right under the statute to pass such a vote.

During the ensuing year there is a note against the district, which comes due for the amount of $1200.00, and we would advise the district to appropriate that sum in payment of the same.

The following is an estimate of the amount required to meet the statutory obligations for the coming year, and this report is a notice to the selectmen as required by law; books and supplies $700.00, flags and appurtenances $30.00; the School Board herewith submits an estimate for appropriations for the year ending February 15th, 1914, and we submit two estimates, one of which would be required in order to provide for the necessary amount depending upon the vote of some of the articles embraced in the warrant.

Your Board has been asked by the teachers in several grades and districts to increase the maximum salary from $12.00 to $13.00 per week, and this petition has been taken into account in one of the following estimates: For notes $1200.00; for expenses in addition to the amount required by law $8,000.00, or $9,000.00 which includes salaries and expenses of School Board, salaries of the truant officers, salaries of other district officers, teachers salaries, minor repairs, permanent repairs, janitors, fuel and incidental expenses.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the Board of Education of the Derry Town District

I herewith submit my report as Superintendent of Schools. As I entered upon the duties of this office in September, I will speak briefly of the condition of the schools since that time.

The schools opened in September with about the same enrollment as last year. Some rooms in the Oak St., and West Side schools were found to be overcrowded. Relief was found in one or two cases by transferring children from one building to the other, but after all that could be done in that way, two rooms at the Oak St., school have had constantly more pupils than seats. The 4th and 5th grades were put in one room, making altogether too large a school for one teacher, and the 6th grade has had more than 50 pupils all the time. Some relief should be found for this congested condition.

The average membership at the Oak St. school for the fall term was 310.35, almost forty pupils on the average per teacher. While the average membership at the West Side school was 224.32, which gives an average per teacher almost as large. We have nearly reached the limit of the capacity of our buildings, and certainly have gone to the limit of the capacity of our teaching force. I am inclined to think that an additional teacher, whose time should be divided between the two buildings to do individual work with children who need special attention, would not only serve the needs of the schools, but would actually be economy for the town.

There are two classes of children in our schools that need special attention—those, who from whatever cause are failing to do satisfactorily the work of their grade and are consequently left behind unpromoted at the end of the year and those, who because of more favorable equipment or conditions, are able to do more than the assigned work in a given year.

The needs of both classes should, in some way, be met. In the small school the regular teacher may find time to give more or less individual assistance, but in a school of forty or more, the teacher can spare but little time for individual needs. In the Oak St. and West Side schools, 84 were reported unpromoted last June, and this number does not include those who were advanced from the sub-primary to the 1st grade rooms at the end of the year, who were still to remain in 1st grade work for one year more. Now, if a special teacher, to work as I have suggested, could have enabled one-half of these to have advanced, she would have accomplished the full work of a teacher, more than the average results per teacher. I thoroughly believe that a teacher thus employed, would not only be serving the ends of justice but would ultimately result in an actual saving of money to the town.

The teacher is the one consideration in the success of the school. Other things such as equipment, supplies and even the course of study, necessary as these may be, are of secondary importance when compared with the teachers. It is therefore essential if we are to have good schools, that good teachers be obtained—teachers with a natural aptitude for the work, and with a training or experience that will enable them to handle skillfully what has become a highly specialized activity. It is also necessary that such teachers when once secured, be retained for a considerable length of time, at least to ensure a degree of permanency and effectiveness in a program of work. This calls for as liberal financial treatment as may be possible. Derry is doing well in this particular, but we are in competition with territory that is able to do better, hence it is difficult to retain strong and ambitious teachers. When the schools opened in September seven teachers in a force of 22 were new, and several changes have taken place since then. The chief difficulty in this particular here as elsewhere is in retaining good teachers in the rural schools. Four of the six rural schools in town opened the year with new teachers. Just as good work can be done in the small rural school, and often more satisfactory work is possible, as in the large single grade room.

But there are other considerations that often operate to attract the teacher from the rural to the town school. Much can be done to counteract this tendency by making the rural school more attractive,

The buildings should be in good condition and comfortable, the equipment complete and the general surrounding improved. All of our rural school buildings are old, and need repairs. Most of them need entirely new furniture and all need much additional equipment. To be sure our rural schools are serving the needs of less than a hundred children, but these children are entitled to every consideration.

The percentage of attendance has been good, especially when we take into consideration the amount of sickness that has prevailed. The plan of excusing an hour early on Friday afternoon the room having the highest percentage of attendance for the week has been effective in securing good attendance in the Oak St., and West Side schools. A modification of this plan can be utilized in the rural schools to an advantage. The attendance, however, in the rural schools has been very good.

I would like to call attention to one or two facts showing the financial report. First the extremely low expenditure for books and supplies. This is accounted for partly by the fact that I have thought best to buy just as few books as possible until I should become more familiar with what we had and with what we needed. Many of our books are in bad condition and must be replaced by new books. A very much larger expenditure will be necessary for these two items next year. Again, the summary of expenditures shows that $20,223.49 have been spent, but it will be observed that this includes $3051.56 for notes and interest, and $650 for permanent improvements. When these are deducted, the sum of $16,521.93 is shown as the net cost of maintaining the schools. It is possible that this net cost could be further reduced next year, or rather the expenditure be so adjusted so as to increase the efficiency of the schools. For instance, it may be advisable to close the school at No. 3, and transfer the pupils there to the Oak street or West side schools; also the two rooms in the Adams district have very small schools which could very easily be combined in one room. The money saved by these two changes could be used to greatly increase the effiency of our schools. I was not ready, however, to recommend that they be made until I have made further study of the situation. I only suggest that they be fully considered. The schools of Derry are in good condition. We have earnest, faithful teachers, the excellent spirit of co-operation prevails, and public opinion generally strongly supports every effort to improve conditions.

One thing alone is to me a matter of regret, that is, that so many parents are ready to take their children from school just as soon as they pass the limits of the compulsory school age. In some cases this is necessary, but frequently it is simply the exploitation of child-labor on the part of the parent. In this connection I wish to say that I believe that the employers of labor in town are now endeavoring to observe faithfully the requirements of the child-labor law.

The following table shows the important figures for a number of years. Those for the present year are for the Fall term, and will necessarily be considerably changed when computed for the entire year. The total enrollment will increase while the average membership and average attendance are likely to decrease. The abnormally low cost per pupil of books and supplies has already been referred to.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES W. CUTTS, Superintendent.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

District No. 2.

To the Board of Education of the Derry Special School District:

I herewith submit my report as Superintendent of Schools.

I am pleased to speak of the general excellent condition of the schools of this district. The building is now in good condition, and the rooms are weli equipped for work. You are particularly fortunate in having secured and in retaining excellent and experienced teachers. The results demonstrate the wisdom of this policy.

The schools are almost ideal as to number of pupils and also as to number of grades in each room. Conditions are favorable for most effective work and I am pleased to say that excellent work is being done. Good progress is being made by each of the several classes.

The children have the advantage of living in the atmosphere of a school community of most excellent traditions. This invariably tends to develope a desirable attitude toward school work, and consequently makes possible much more satisfactory results. The community is to be congratulated on this fact.

The most important of the statistics, as reported to the State Department for last year, are: total enrollment 57; average membership 46; average attendance 43; per cent. of attendance 93. The corresponding figures for the present year to date are as follows: total enrollment 54; average membership 44.5; average attendance 42; per cent. of attendance 94.

Ten have not been absent or tardy this year.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the Board for their support and cooperation, also the teachers, pupils and parents for their encouragement and helpful attitude.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES W. CUTTS,
Superintendent.
